EXCELLENT WATER POWER FOR MILLS AND MANUFACTURING PURPOSES.
THE excellent water power at the outlet of the Great East Pond in the town of Newport, County of Penobscot and State of Maine is now offered for sale in such parts as purchasers may desire. This water power combines three essential advantages—an unfailing supply of water, the pond covering a large portion of the town and raised with little expense or damage, freedom from all risk as to freshets and is never frozen. It is situated in the heart of rapidly increasing and thriving agricultural county and is only twenty three miles distant from the city of Bangor.

There is now situated on this outlet a Tannery, an Iron Foundery and Machine Shop and a Saw Mill and a Grist Mill.

The owners wish to dispose of a privilege sufficient for driving a large amount of machinery and also of several acres of land adjoining, or of portions of the same to be used for various manufacturing purposes.

It is believed that the advantages here offered are rarely equalled and never excelled and that the terms of sale will be such as to be worthy the attention of capitalists and others who may wish to engage in manufactures.

SWELLING OF THE BODY FROM HEAD TO FOOT, CURED!!

BOSTON (Mass) March 10 1844

SIR—About a year since I was taken severely ill, with a swelling of the body from head to foot so that I was entirely helpless. The doctor advised me to go to the Hospital, for he said he did not understand my case. The persuasion of friends induced me to try Dr Loraine's Vegetable Pills which in a few days produced a great change in my system by increasing the natural discharges, causing an appetite relieving the pain, removing the swelling, and giving me strength, and a perfect cure.

A SEVERE PAIN IN BOTH SIDES CURED!

LOWELL (Mass) April 20, 1844

SIR—For the last few months I have been afflicted with a severe pain in both sides, at times so hard that I could scarcely get my breath * * * It is a pleasure to feel well—but a much greater one to say that I was cured immediately upon taking 1 dose of Dr Loraine's Pills. J BROOKS

A HACKING COUGH CONSTANTLY ANNOYED ME!

BOSTON, (Mass) June 1 1844

SIR—In February last I took a sudden cold, after which, a hacking cough constantly annoyed me, and this, combined with my other maladies rendered me truly miserable, as every body told me that I was in a consumption. Since I have taken Loraine's Pills and now every body tells me that I am well,—I feel as well as ever I did.

IMMORTALITY.

COMPETITORS for fame have struggled and played their parts upon the stage of human life each with one grand object in view, and to that object the energies of their lives, they pushed upwards and onwards. True immortality, however, is attained only by proper means, humility and benevolence are the paths. The most sincere esteeming spirit on earth the smiles of men but like the smile of Parr, moves steadily on, happy in the conviction that his humble labors will be gradually appreciated, and he labours to tend in lengthening the longevity which shall be a blessing to tens of thousands.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.
FOR THE REMOVAL AND PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM

IF there be a pleasure on earth which superior beings cannot enjoy, and one which they might almost envy man the possession of, it is the power of relieving pain. How consoling, then, is the consciousness of having been the instrument of rescuing thousands from misery to those who possess it. What an amount of suffering has been relieved, and what a still greater amount of suffering can be prevented, by the use of Sand's Sarsaparilla! The unfortunate victim of hereditary disease, with swollen glands, contracted sinews and bones half carious, has been restored to health and vigor. The scrofulous patient covered with ulcers, loathsome to him self and to his attendants, has been made whole. Hundreds of persons, who had groaned hopelessly for years under cutaneous and glandular disorders, chronic rheumatism and many other complaints springing from a derangement of the secretive organs and the circulation, have been raised as it were from the rack of disease and now, with regenerated constitutions, gladly testify to the efficacy of this inestimable preparation.

The following interesting case most commend itself to the careful attention of all similarly afflicted:

Sands's Celebrated Sarsaparilla!

I speak experimentally when I say that this medicine is far more efficient in the cure of chronic or acute rheumatism than any other preparation I have ever tested. Having endured extreme suffering at times within the last five years from repeated attacks of inflammatory or acute Rheumatism, I have recently used Sands's Sarsaparilla with the happiest success, and health is now better than it has been for many months past, my appetite is good, and my strength is rapidly increasing. I attribute this healthful change entirely to the use of this excellent medicine. Feeling a deep sympathy with those who are afflicted with this most tormenting and painful complaint, I am far from attempting to recommend anything to such the use of this valuable specific. Having the most entire confidence in the medicine and skill of the Messrs Sands I was induced freely to try the effects of their Sarsaparilla, and I take pleasure in adding my test mony to that of many others commendatory of its curative properties unknown to and unsolicited by the Messrs Sands. A B & D SANDS—Esteemed Friends—Although an entire stranger to you, I do not feel at liberty to longer to defer the acknowledgment of a great and heartfelt debt to you for your invaluable Sarsaparilla, which has been the means under a kind Providence, of my inexpressible relief. I am also urged to this act by a sense of duty in reflecting that by my humble acknowledgment others similarly affected may be induced to try this remedy and experience relief as I have. For twelve years I have been suffering under a Scrofulous affection of the Bones in my head and during a great part of this time my pain has been so great as to cause me to despair of relief. The Great Disposer of events, I should have despaired of relief... have parted with several pieces of bone have been taken from my head at different times, I also lost all my upper teeth with the entire upper jaw, rendering it almost impossible to speak. After expending about a hundred dollars for medical aid, I had recourse to your justly celebrated Sarsaparilla, and within a week of three months the use of twelve bottles has, with the most beneficial operation completely arrested the disease. The healing process is going forward, and I am rapidly approaching to a perfect cure. Being exceedingly anxious that all sufferers, and as a fair and a true person, I shall be most happy to communicate to them or to you such further and more minute particulars as may be desired. Be so good as to accept assurance of my grateful regards and regard. BENJ M HUSSEY

NANTUCKET 9th Mo 31, 1844

A B & D SANDS—Respected Friends—Benjamin M Hussey is a person of great respectability, his statement in relation to the wonderful effects of your Sarsaparilla upon him may be implicitly relied upon. His case has been considered a very extraordinary one, and the cure effected is a great blessing to the human family and we consider it as such.

NEW AND MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
SARSAPARILLA AND WILD CHERRY
BITTERS,

For the Cure of the following Diseases.

Jaundice Liver Complaint Billious Complaints Sick Headache, Heart Burn Indigestion Habitual Costiveness Piles Palpitations of the Heart Loss of Appetite Dyspepsia Nervous Irritations Debilitated Stomach Languor, Depression of Spirits Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases Canker Syphiloid Diseases, Scrofula Impurities of the Blood Pimples and Pustules on the Face Hereditary Humors Cold Sores and all diseases arising from an injudicious use of mercury.

The attention of the invalid public and all those afflicted by any of the above diseases irrespectfully called to the merits of a new and invaluable preparation from the original recipe of a distinguished physician combining in itself the most active ... properties of two of the very first articles in the Materia Medica.

The Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters were introduced to the public about two years ago, and during that period their success has been so great as to induce the proprietor to offer them with still more confidence in the full belief that by entering into more extensive use they will prove a blessing to all those suffering from the diseases above enumerated.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION.

This abominable distressing and almost indescribable complaint—the torture of confirmed sorts ... foundation in a deranged condition of the stomach and bowels ... Sweet and regular sleep ... so fatally neglected is but the forerunner of more dangerous diseases ... At its first appearance it should be checked by an attention to diet and regularity and by the use of some mild and salutary medicine. All these desirable properties are presented in Dr WOOD'S Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters skillfully prepared and delightful tonic and Aperient ... following is one among many certificates of the efficacy of this medicine in the cure of Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Headache &c.

C I Gibbs is well known in this vicinity and cheerfully gives his testimony of the efficiency of this medicine.

Sandwich Sept 4 1844

Dear Sir. This is to certify that my daughter has been troubled with Dyspepsia for a number of years attended with almost constant headache and all the distressing symptoms which accompany this disease. She visited Boston to avail herself of the skill of the physicians ... By the solicitation of a friend I was induced to purchase a bottle of Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters ... her Dyspepsia and Headache and after using two or three bottles the complaint was entirely removed.
N D GIBBS

THE UNIVERSAL COMPLAINT, HEADACHE.

Who is there that does not ... this distressing affection? We meet with it among all classes ... unfitting its victims for the duties and all intercourse ... Almost the sole cause of this malady is in a diseased condition of the stomach and bowels ... Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters ... of the day and free from many of their usual distresses.

The annexed certificate of Col Baylies will be read with interest as it is sufficient with B... to cure complaints arising from a deranged stomach.

New Bedford Aug 10 1844

Dear Sir I find Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters all that you recommended them to be, and I take great pleasure in saying that I think them the best preparation I ... I have been troubled for a long time with Jaundice ... of the Stomach attended with Headache ... Acid and Vertigo which was so bad at times that I could not see and think that I am entirely cured by the use of the Bitters. I have used them in my family and would recommend them to every one suffering from Jaundice, Indigestion and Headache.
JOHN BAYLIES

DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS

At certain seasons of the year and particularly in the spring, many persons are subject to a depression of the spirits accompanied by a debilitated stomach loss of appetite, nervous irritation, general languor and a variety of symptoms which it is impossible to describe. The only way to remove this disease is to strengthen the stomach by the use of proper tonic remedies, to brace up the muscles, secure an appetite for food, and allay nervous irritation, and by putting the body in a right state of health to produce ease and strength of mind. To do this, nothing is more effective than the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters. They are confidently recommended as the best SPRING MEDICINE ever offered to the public. One trial of their virtues will be sufficient to convince of their valuable properties, and those who have used them will never resort to any other remedy for this painful disease destructive as it is to all happiness and usefulness in life.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC

Be particular and ask for Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters, and receive no other. This is the first preparation of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry combined ever offered to the public, and the great success attending its use will induce the unprincipled counterfeiters. As a preventative, see that the bottles have the words DR WOOD'S SARSAPARILLA AND WILD CHERRY BITTERS pressed on the glass, as a further protection each label on the bottle will be signed by the proprietor, E Thornton Jr. Take these precautions and you will get the genuine article.

From the New Bedford Register.

Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters.—The respectability of gentlemen in this town and vicinity, who testify to the benefits, within their personal knowledge, derived from the use of this Compound of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry is such as to put to rest all doubts as to the value of these extracts to those suffering from Dyspepsia Jaundice, Indigestion, Headache, or Scrofulous diseases. When a medicine has been known to effect cures in certain cases no recommendation is needed other than a simple statement of facts. To those who are liable to any complaints for which the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters is advertised as a remedy, we would say, do as others have done, and find relief in the way pointed out by the proprietor of this highly popular compound.

JOHN S SAYWARD Editor

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1845.

The Fourth of July.

The anniversary of our national independence has again dawned upon us It is a day to be remembered, for blustered about it are a multitude of thrilling associations connected with the high purpose and severe conflicts and heavy sacrifices and intense labors and life-offerings of our fathers to maintain the noble Declaration of Independence of the British crown, and that the people of these then colonies were and of right ought to be free There was a mission through suffering and conflict and blood to secure political Independence We honor them for the discharge of the duties connected with their high mission The day when their declaration was made and their solemn pledges given to each other and the world, to maintain it by fortune and life, is rightfully a marked day in the calender Its annual return takes us mentally back to the period of the infancy of the revolutionary struggle and to a contemplation of the far seeing wisdom of our fathers and their lofty purposes and indomitable will and unwavering devotion to the good of man It is a great thing to commune with that brilliant period in our history We thereby become impressed with the virtues of those wise and good men who then thought and acted

While we commemorate the day our fathers sanctified and remember their deeds and have our hearts awakened to our duty to preserve what has been committed to our charge, we are also bound to seek out our mission in life and to discharge our duties, as our fathers did their duty

While we commemorate on this day the trumpet toned Declaration of Independence which our fathers shouted to the world, calling the nations to judgment for the wrongs of misgovernment, caprice and tyranny, exercised towards man whose right it is to be free, we do well also to turn our attention to that other declaration of Independence of the misgovernment, caprice and tyranny of alcohol Let the two declarations be conjoined in our minds and our affections, since the first cannot be maintained without the aid of the second

How full is the parallel of the two? Our political fathers were borne down with the power of a foreign government and the prevailing ideas relative to the powers and duties of those who governed They struck out a new path and proved their ability, politically, to govern themselves The brothers in the Washingtonian reform were borne down with the slavery of appetite and the prevailing public sentiment that they had no right to expect deliverance, & no ability to maintain self government They struck out a new path and proved to the world, what all the world had thought proved to the contrary, that the most self abandoned in intemperance could reform, and the morally dead be revived and the degraded rise to respectability and honor — Our political fathers and our Washingtonian brethren have furnished indubitable evidence of the strong powers of man when properly directed They have placed man in a new and command ing position, and bid us have faith in his capacities for the accomplishment of great and noble enterprizes The fathers struggled for national freedom and improvement the brethren for personal redemption and elevation They each had a mission and complied with its conditions and duties.

It is the mission of the present generation to preserve all of the political rights secured and to urge forward to the highest consummation the great temperance enterprize Under its influence the besotted and debased man becomes elevated to the character, assumes the responsibilities, and complies with the duties of a moral agent The heaven lending faculties and powers of the soul, that have been kept in the prison house of debasement, or suffered to waste themselves in dreamy and disturbed sleep, are awakened and the man opens his eyes to a new and better and higher consciousness of his being and destiny He catches occasional glimpses of the relations and obligations to the infinite and eternal and cannot quietly slumber with a load of neglected duties bearing upon him — Prudence and watchfulness are made to trace out for him a path to greater excellence, and a every step in his progress he gains new strength for the succeeding step A survey of his own moral condition unveils to him the obligations he owes to others, and thus society, within his own family for influence, becomes quickened by a new, warm, and beneficent impulse The rock of his personal responsibility is smitten and the generous waters flow out to gladden, improve and cheer The effort to supply the sensual appetite, is now directed to feed the soul The man has become capable of governing his mind, and she he not become also better capable of directing aright the movements of his heart? The moral faculties thus awakened as naturally seek religion as the filial affection of a child causes it to seek its parent.

Let us turn our attention now to some of the social advantages resulting from the temperance movement And what a wide spread, bleak, and barren region, in the domestic circles of our country, do we already behold reclaimed and made to bud and blossom as the rose, yielding its rich fruit of happiness to thousands and millions—the frail and tender—the young and the innocent, and virtuous but oppressed woman, how has her lot been changed and improved! The infant buds of immorality how have they been lifted up in the arms of tenderness from the iron tide which attended those who preceded them Home, that blessed and holy name—what a change has been wrought there—what new joys cluster about it—what high hopes grow in exuberance where but a brief period since grew the dark and bitter weeds of despair!

The chilling walls of separation in society have been broken down—a large equality has appeared among men—an equality effected not by depressing any portion but by elevating and improving the self depressed and the lowly and forsaken, if not abandoned Common ground has been discovered on which all may stand and feel a common sympathy and unite in labor — The rich and the poor, all shades of opinion in politics and religion—all professions, trades, and employments,—both sexes and colors—every age and condition have all found a common focus where all rays may unite, and all efforts combine in advancing the cause of human happiness by means of temperance And shall not this common sympathy, labor and companionship, teach us all the impressive lesson that we are brethren—children of one common parent, subject to the same hopes and vicissitudes, and destined to the same eternal home? It must be so

This companionship in Temperance, the fruitful mother of so many virtues—will prepare all minds to discover noble qualities in man, and cause him to occupy the place not of a serf or slave, or crushed artizan, but of a MAN, a priceless unit among the spiritual creations of God! Then shall come the glory of that period when by all men, shall places of sensual and evil influence be deserted for halls of science and popular institutions, established for the intellectual and social advancement and happiness of all Then may cynics throw away their lights in searching for a man and find men everywhere In the lowliest condition—the meanest, lowl we may find temperance and virtue — Beneath the coarsest rags there throbs a human heart—there shines a quenchless soul

Society will wake up to a new appreciation of its duties and obligations and the badges of sects and parties will be less valued and the moral and social qualities of the heart and mind become the standards of value

Grand Temperance Levee.

Tickets for admission to the Grand Temperance Levee at the City Hall, this evening, under the direction of the good women of our city who have the cause of temperance near at heart, may be obtained at the several Book stores and at the door of the city hall

A ticket will entitle the holder to admission and to the privilege of partaking freely of the refreshments provided as there will be no charge for refreshments

A ticket admitting a man can be obtained for fifty cents and seventy five cents will admit a man and a woman

Splendid boquets will be offered for sale at the Levee and it is hoped some revenue may be realized from the Post office Department With the exception of these sources there will be no opportunity for spending money

The Levee has so far been arranged with exquisite taste and with the utmost liberality, and it is hoped that it may be extensively patronized and those blessed women who have specially taken the cause of Temperance in hand may be furnished with ample means for carrying on their sublime enterprise

Rhode Island against Maine Locofocoism.

The following resolutions appended to a report of a Committee of General Assembly of Rhode Island on the resolutions of the Legislature of this State, have been passed by both branches of the Assembly of Rhode Island — The resolutions convey a well merited rebuke to the loco leaders in this State

Whereas, The Legislature of the State of Maine has passed sundry resolutions reprobating, in terms the most offensive, the government and people of Rhode Island, for their efforts during the late insurrection, to maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and the laws, protesting against the imprisonment of Thomas W Dorr, as unjust illegal malignant, and tyrannical and invoking the interposition of the General Government to procure his immediate release" and whereas these resolutions have been transmitted to His Excellency the Governor, and by him have been communicated to this General Assembly, therefore

Resolved That this General Assembly does hereby enter its solemn PROTEST against the interference of the State of Maine with the internal affairs of Rhode Island as an interference which can plead no constitutional sanction, and which deserves to be rebuked as a dangerous invasion of the most sacred rights of the government and people of this State

Resolved, That the obligations of truth not less than that comity which is the duty and the interest of sister States to preserve in their intercourse with one another, ought to have restrained the Legislature of Maine from levelling coarse denunciations against the Supreme Court of Rhode Island for the manner in which, at a memorable crisis in our history that upright and enlightened tribunal discharged an imperative but painful duty

Resolved That the attempt on the part of the Legislature of Maine, to intermeddle with the administration of criminal justice in this State, to invoke the popular vengeance against the ministers of the law, and to render odious its righteous penalties furnishes a melancholy illustration of that mad party spirit which, to accomplish a temporary and selfish purpose tramples upon all the safeguards of constitutional freedom and disregards the most impressive admonitions of history

Resolved, That the appeal which the State of Maine has seen fit to make to the General Government in behalf of Thomas W Dorr by whatever plausibility of language that appeal is couched be sheltered from reprobation can be regarded in no other light than as an alarming attempt to concentrate upon a small but sovereign State the vindictive energies of a government armed with the whole power of the Union

Resolved, That the State of Rhode Island while she faithfully discharges all her Constitutional obligations to her sister States and to the Government of the Union can never so far forget her past history—her early struggles in the cause of religious freedom—her toils and sufferings and sacrifices, in the war of the Revolution and her jealous determination at all times to secure to the people of Rhode Island the exclusive right to manage their own affairs in their own way, as not to reject with indignation every attempt, come when and whence it may to deprive her of those constitutional safeguards which the fathers of the Republic established in order to preserve the peace union and liberty of these confederate States

Resolved That his Excellency the Governor be requested to cause a copy of the preceding resolutions to be transmitted to the President of the United States to the Governors of the several States and to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress

House of Representatives June 28th 1845 — Voted &c By order

D AL JENCKES Clerk

In Senate read the same day and concurred By order

From Oregon.

The Montreal Courier has an extract from a letter dated Fort Vancouver, November 17th, which we transfer —

"A large party reported at about twelve hundred emigrants, from Missouri and other parts of the Union are now at this season entering the country, amidst sufferings of every description, and exposed to the worst possible weather

Every thing is done on our part by supplying provisions boats and other facilities to relieve them and without our assistance their condition will be truly deplorable From the Willamette Falls to Walla Walla, there is a continuous line of men, wagons and cattle, and it will be some weeks yet before the most distant of them arrive

From the Columbian Magazine for June

THE YOUTHFUL EMIGRANT.

A True Story of the Early Settlement of New Jersey.

BY L MARIA CHILD

[Concluded]

'And hast thou forgotten, Friend John the earnest Indian counsel which my father bigged of thee for me? Since then I have seen it growing and a goodly plant it is, I assure thee — 'See' she continued, pointing to several bunches of ripe corn which hung in their braided husks against the walls of the ample kitchen, 'all that, and more, came from the corn left with me by my father May the good seed sown by thy ministry be as fruitful'

'Amen, replied both of the guests and for a few moments no one interrupted the silence — Then they talked much of England John Estaugh had not seen any of the Haddon family for several years, but he brought letters from them, which came by the same ship, and he had information to give of many whose names were familiar as household words

The next morning it was discovered that snow had fallen during the night in heavy drifts and the roads were impassable Elizabeth, according to her usual custom, sent out oxen and sledges, to open pathways for several poor families and for households whose inmates were wasted by illness In this duty John Estaugh and his friend joined heartily, and none of the laborers worked harder than they When he returned glowing from this exercise, she could not but observe that the excellent youth had a goodly countenance It was not physical beauty, for of that he had little, it was that cheerful child like, out beaming honesty of expression which we not unfrequently see in Germans, who above all nations look as if they carried a crystal heart within their manly bosoms

Two days after, when Elizabeth went to visit her patients with a sled load of medicines and provisions, John asked permission to accompany her There, by the bedside of the aged and the suffering, she saw the clear sincerity of his countenance warmed up with rays of love, while he spoke to them words of kindness and consolation and there she heard his pleasant voice modulate itself into deeper tenderness and expression when he took in the children in his arms

The next Fast Day, which we call the Sabbath, the whole family, as usual, attended Newtown meeting, and there John Estaugh was gifted with an outpouring of the spirit in his ministry which sunk deep into the hearts of those who listened to him Elizabeth found it so marvelously applicable to the trials and temptations of her own soul, that she almost deemed it was spoken on purpose for her She said nothing of this, but she pondered upon it deeply Thus did a few days of united duties make them more thoroughly acquainted with each other than they could have been by years of fashionable intercourse

The young preacher soon after bade farewell, to visit other meetings in Pennsylvania and New Jersey Elizabeth saw him no more until the May following, when he stopped at her house to lodge, with numerous other Friends, on their way to the Quarterly Meeting at Salem In the morning quite a cavalcade started from her hospitable door, on horseback, for wagons were then unknown in Jersey John Estaugh, always kindly in his impulses, busied himself with helping a lame and very ugly old woman, and left his hostess to mount her horse as she could Most young women would have felt slighted, but in Elizabeth a noble soul the quiet deep tide of feeling rippled with an inward joy 'He is always kindest to the poor and the neglected,' thought she, "verily he is a good youth

She was leaning over the side of her horse, to adjust the buckle of the girth, when the same up on horseback and inquired if anything was out of order With slight confusion and a voice less calm than her usual utterance, she replied, 'Nothing Friend John, I was merely looking to see if Joseph had buckled the girth securely They trotted along leisurely behind the procession of guests, speaking of the soil and climate of this new country, and how wonderfully the Lord had here provided a home for his chosen people Presently the girth began to slip, and the saddle turned so much on one side, that Elizabeth was obliged to dismount It took some time to re adjust it, and when they again started the company were out of sight There was brighter color than usual in the maiden's cheeks and unwonted radiance in her mild deep eyes After a short silence, she said, in a voice slightly tremulous, 'Friend John, I have a subject of great importance on my mind, and one which nearly interests thee I am strongly impressed that the Lord has sent thee to me as a partner for life I tell thee my impressions frankly, but not without calm and deep reflection, for marriage is a holy relation and should be entered into with all sobriety If thou hast no light on the subject, wilt thou gather into the stillness, and reverently listen to thy own inward revelations? Thou art to leave this part of the country to morrow, and not knowing when I shall see thee again, I felt desired to tell thee what lay upon my mind

The young man was taken by surprise though accustomed to that suppression of emotion, which characterizes religious people of the present day but he soon became calmer, and replied 'This thought is new to me, Elizabeth and I have no light thereon Thy company has been right pleasant to me and to my friends since we first made the acquaintance of William Penn's sheep page Increasingly will I bear upon face I have seen thy kindness to the poor and the wise management of thy household I have observed, too that thy warm heartedness is tempered by a most excellent discretion and that thy speech is ever sincere Assuredly such as the maiden I would ask of the Lord as a most precious gift but I never thought of this connection with thee I came to this country solely on a religious visit, and to right distinctly in my mind to enquire this subject at present When I have discharged the duties of my mission, we will speak further

It is best so rejoined the maiden, 'but there is one thing disturbs my confidence — Thou last spoken of my true speech and first friend John, I have deceived thee, even now while we conversed together on a subject so serious I know not from what weakness the temptation came, but I will not hide it from thee I told thee I was looking to see if Joseph had buckled the girth of my horse accurately but in truth, I was loosening the girth, John Estaugh had the saddle right as it was, and gave me an excuse to fall behind our friends for I thought he would be kind enough to come back and assist me service

It is pure transparency of motive spoke the maiden so tenderly to John Estaugh that it would to a man more accustomed to worldly ways, but less familiar with the simplicity of primitive Quakers Nevertheless, the perfect guilelessness of the maiden rendered her in his honest heart, and he could not without touching from his then situation important subject she had suggested It was observable in this singular interview, that no mention was made of worldly substance John did not say 'I am poor, and thou art rich, he did not even think it Each had entered Elizabeth's mind only in the form of thankfulness to God that she was provided with a heart large enough for both

They spoke no further concerning the union but when he returned to England, in July the present letter hand affectionately, as he said, Farewell Elizabeth If it be the Lord's will, I shall return to thee soon He lingered as their hands trembled in each other's clasp, then drawing her gently toward him, he imprinted a kiss on her open innocent forehead She looked modestly into his clear honest eyes, and replied in the kindest tones, 'Farewell friend John, may the Lord bless thee and guide thee

In October, he returned to America, and they were soon after married at Newtown meeting, according to a simple form of the Society of Friends Neither of them made any change of dress for the occasion, and there was no wedding feast Without the aid of priest or magistrate they took each other by the hand, and in the presence of witnesses solemnly and solemnly promised to be kind and faithful to each other Their mutual vows were recorded in the church books, and the wedded pair quietly returned to their happy home Home to contrasted with those sacred hours of human life, upon the heart most needs to be left alone with its own deep emotions

They lived together nearly forty years in the most perfect unity During that period she three times crossed the Atlantic to visit Friends in Ireland occasionally at other times as she was called abroad to preach These temporary separations were felt as a cross, but the strong hearted woman always cheerfully gave him up to follow his own convictions of duty In 1742, he parted from her, to go on a religious visit to Portugal in the West Indians He died there, in the sixty seventh year of his age She published a brief account of his life to which is prefixed a preface entitled 'Light through Estaugh's testimony concerning her beloved husband, John Estaugh In this preface, she says, Since it pleased Divine Providence so highly to favor me with being the mean of compassion of the dear worthy, I must give some small account of him Few, if any, in the married state ever lived in sweeter harmony than we did He was a pattern of moderation in all things not filled up with any enjoyments, nor cast down at disappointments A man endowed with many good gifts, which rendered him very agreeable to his friends, and much more to me, his wife, to whom his memory is most dear and precious

The oak tomb in which he was buried at Tortola, is still pointed out to Quaker travellers one of whom recently writes, 'By a circuitous path, through a dense thicket, we came to the spot where Friends once had a meeting house, and where are buried the remains of several of our valued ministers, who visited this island about a century ago, from a sense of gospel love The tomb has made its ravages upon these mansions of the dead The acacia spreads thickly its thorny branches over them and near them the cactus grew blooming aloe is luxuriantly growing

Elizabeth survived her excellent husband twenty years, useful and honored to the last — The Monthly Meeting of Haddonfield, in a published testimonial, speak of her thus 'She has endowed with great natural abilities which, being sanctified by the spirit of Christ, were much improved, whereby she became qualified to act in the affairs of the church, and was a serviceable member, having been clerk to the women's meeting nearly fifty years, greatly to the satisfaction She was a sincere sympathizer with the afflicted, and a benevolent disposition and distributing to the poor was desirous to do it in a way most profitable and durable to them, and if possible not to let the right hand know what the left did Though in a state of affluence as to this world's wealth, she was an example of plainness and moderation Her heart and house were open to her friends, whom to entertain seemed one of her greatest pleasures Prudently cherishing and well knowing the value of friendship, she was careful not to wound it herself nor to encourage others in whispering suppositions failings of weakness Her last illness brought great bodily pain, which she bore with much calmness of mind and sweetness of spirit She departed this life as one falling asleep, full of days, like unto a shock of corn full ripe'

The town of Haddonfield, in New Jersey, took its name from her, and the tradition concerning the cow ship is often repeated by some matronly Quakers She laid out the extensive garden in the rear of the house, which during her day was much celebrated for herbs, vegetables and fruits, liberally distributed all around the neighborhood The house was burned down years ago, but some fine old trees which she brought from England, are still pointed out on the site where the noble garden once flourished Her medical skill is so well remembered that the old nurses of New Jersey still recommend Elizabeth Estaugh's salve as the sovereignest thing on earth

Beautiful Thoughts.

There is something touchingly beautiful in words when rightly put together They leave an impression that can never be effaced We have read again and again, till it is as familiar to us as the face of a friend, the following splendid thought, and yet every time we see it it is as fresh and beautiful as ever The author we know not, but he deserves to be immortalized for this morceau alone

"How beautifully falls
From human lips that blessed word, FORGIVE,
Forgiveness — tis the attribute of God—
The sound which openeth heaven— enews again
On earth to it Eden's faded bloom and flings
Hope's halcyon halo o'er the waste of life
Blessed happy he whose heart has known no school
In the meek lessons of humanity;
That he can give it utterance, it imparts
Celestial grandeur to the human soul,
And maketh man an angel
